

SOCIAL EVENTS

With Schumann-Heink and "Intelligence" to inaugurate the week and smart events including the Charity ball punctuating the social calendar of the following days it would appear that members of the fashionable set had little time for other plans, but such is not the case. As a matter of fact the amateur attractions are looming large just now and quietly the committees are selecting plays and players for these events, the initial being the "Passing Review of 1916" for the benefit of the Arizona Press club. This will not be a strictly amateur affair as nearly all the Arizona Alden company will appear in the Audubon theatre. The newspaper men who will take part in a clever skit will be rehearsed by J. D. Glass, manager of the Alden players who will direct the entire performance. It will be given at the Elks theatre on Friday evening.

The Country club has set February 8 and 9 as the date for its presentation of a smart society drama which has not yet been selected. It is understood that Mrs. Anton Bevers who made a tremendous hit in "Seven Days" when it was produced two years ago will be the leading woman and the other members of the cast will be selected within a few days.

"Stop Thief" will be presented by the Woman's club at its clubhouse on February 14 with Lester Byron in the leading role. Mrs. Daniel Francis and Mrs. J. G. Van Loven will be among those who will take part in the production. The play committee comprises Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. C. F. Alsworth and Mrs. Edith Knowles.

Quite the most interesting and surprising bit of news in many a day is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Jennie Foster Weedin, daughter of the late Thomas F. Weedin to William Conrad Mills. It is understood that the wedding will be an even of the very near future.

The announcement is of more than passing note for the prominence of the attractive bride-elect and the leading musician of the state makes the approaching marriage of general interest.

Miss Weedin is a native daughter of Arizona and one whose family name is known throughout the state. Her father was a pioneer who came to the state thirty-six years ago. He lived practically all of that time in Phoenix where he was owner and editor of the Blade-Tribune. He also had large mining interests in Pinal county but was never too deeply engaged in his personal affairs to overlook those of the state and stood behind every worthy progressive measure advanced by his party. He was a leader in democratic politics and at the time of his death was registrar of the land office. His wife was one of the first club women of Arizona and served for a long term as president of the Florence Improvement club. Their daughter has attended her father's school and she also plays exceptionally well. She has much charm of manner and is of the tall, slender attractive type of brunette.

Mr. Mills has deservedly won the place of foremost musician in the state in the four years he has been in Phoenix. The family home is in Cheyenne and it was with the Wyoming Light Battery that Mr. Mills saw service in the Philippines. A special medal was granted by his state for gallant service rendered. He passed a number of years in the government service in Washington being connected with the interior department. While there he attended the Washington College of Music. His popularity and ability made him a favorite soloist in the capital and he had the distinction of appearing on state occasions before four presidents. He was soloist of St. John's church while in Washington. He is at present choir master of the Trinity Pro-Cathedral, musical director of the Lyric club and of the Apollo club and honorary member of the Musicians' club. His pupils are represented in all the choirs of the city. Mr. Mills has booked a large number of worth while musical attractions appearing here in the past few years among them Charles Wakefield Campbell and Humber-Guthrie and the crowning attraction tomorrow night, Miss Schumann-Heink. He plans to bring other artists to Phoenix before the end of the present season.

Bishop Atwood was a dinner host recently entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, Jr. and Mrs. H. M. Fenimore and Dean Scarlett.

The third annual charity ball of the Board of Directors of St. Luke's home will be given at the Woman's club on Thursday evening and will unquestionably be the smartest event of the year. Past events have always taken the precedence over all other affairs and it follows that with the same leading society matrons in charge this season's function will be on a par with it if it does not surpass the past dances. The board members will receive the informal reception ending promptly at nine o'clock when the grand march is scheduled. Eugene Goldman will act as master of ceremony which bids fair to the success of the dance. There will be cards for those who prefer bridge and supper will be served in the secretary's room from ten thirty o'clock until the early morning hours. Mrs. E. J. Bonnett and Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sawyer and Miss Sawyer of Nashville are the guests of Mr. Sawyer's brother, Ed Sawyer, for a few weeks. They are established at the Adams.

Miss Helen Jacobs gave a pleasant surprise party Thursday evening in compliment to Miss Eunice Siddell. The juniors present were Miss Evelyn Stashhouse, Miss Julia Warlen, Miss Helen Reine, Miss Eva Wedell, Miss Emma Carr, Miss Nellie Hanford, Miss Inez Sterling, Miss Gladys Stedling, Miss Lela Dieter, Miss Beulah E. Henders, Miss Ethel Moss, Miss Louie Siddell, Miss Olga Brown, Miss Sylvia Moore, Miss Audrey Smithhouse, Arthur Guiley, Howard Haskins, Dan Haskins, Karl Runkon, George Young, Roy Sellick, James Wade, Charles Norlan, Percy Towers, Ward Fleming, Lloyd Hammett, Robert Whalley, Homer Thomas, Gerald Hickey and Ned Towers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heiberg of Boulder, Colo., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wolf of West Willetta street.

Mrs. Webb Griffin and Mrs. Kimball Harman were hostesses at the Country Club tea yesterday when golf, tennis and bridge combined in amusing the many who motored on for the afternoon. Mrs. William T. Colledge made the highest bridge score. Those there were Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Woolsey, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dandart, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hatten, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bennett, Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Strong Witbeck, Mrs. Daniel Francis, Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. William J. Kingsbury, Mrs. John H. Pace, Mrs. Roy S. Goodrich, Mrs. Evans-Darby, Mrs. Andrew Miller, Mrs. H. M. Fenimore, Mrs. Logan Ebele, Mrs. Herman Perry De Muid, Mrs. Reginald Stroud, Mrs. Paul Bennett, Mrs. C. L. Bingle, Mrs. W. E. Denison, Mrs. John G. Stangler, Mrs. Donald McQueen, Mrs. Elaine De Kosh, Mrs. Walter Tracy, Mrs. Anell Martin, Mrs. Cass Redwell, Mrs. C. D. Dorris, Mrs. R. C. Sanley, Mrs. P. K. Lewis, Mrs. H. W. Kingsbury, Miss Selma Goldman, Mrs. Fay DeMund, Miss Birdie Butler, Miss M. Miller, Miss Frances De Graft, Miss Ellen Casaway, Miss Ruth Logan, Miss Cheney, Dr. K. Hammett, Edgar Garfield, Dr. George Goodrich, Judge Richard E. Shaw, H. L. Allen, Thomas Dumbler, Harry Trille and Walter Bonnet.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seip entertained with a pleasantly arranged dinner Sunday evening at their home on North First avenue. During the evening a delightful program was presented by the Hampton orchestra. Those who enjoyed the affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mayfield, Mrs. E. R. Truman, Miss Florida La Veen, Miss Effie Lamb, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Winona Seip and George Stewart, Jr.

An attractively appointed affair of the week was the dance given at the Woman's club Friday evening by the Mac Brodie Auxiliary and the United Spanish War veterans. The decorations were unusually effective, the national colors and the camp colors featuring the scheme. A wealth of greenery was used as background and set off to advantage the brilliant special features. The flag held aloft of prominence on the stage and red, white and blue bunting added an effective note. Card tables were arranged for those who did not care for dancing. The Beese orchestra furnished a delightful program. The guests were received by Captain J. L. Alexander, commander of the camp and Mrs. Alexander, president of the auxiliary, Captain and Mrs. George I. Christy, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Struckmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Con P. Cronin, Mrs. Wm. Hill and Colonel James H. McClintock.

Mills, Miss Edith Smith, Miss Mary Taylor, Miss Ethel Johnson, Miss Eleanor Alexander and Miss Annie Rosemeyer.

Mrs. Donald Dandart was a bridge hostess on Friday, entertaining informally at her home on North Seventh avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woolsey gave a charmingly appointed dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Bird of Nogales. Rose buds and narcissus combined in artistic table decoration. Covers were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. George Olney, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reman Angles and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurley.

Among the many informal events given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Alkirk during their few day stay here en route from San Francisco to New York was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldberg at the Country club on Thursday. This was but one of the many dinners that preceded the club dance.

Mrs. Harold Baxter will give a tea Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Charles Strong Witbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hartrant passed Thursday in Phoenix the guests of the W. G. Hartrant on their way to their home on the coast from an extensive southern tour.

Miss Virginia Lockett left Friday evening for Berkeley where the charming college girl will continue her course at the University of California.

Eugene Goldman is passing the week end in Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. H. Logan and Miss Ruth Logan are receiving a cordial greeting from their host of friends in Phoenix. They are from Los Angeles last week and will be at the Adams for an indefinite period.

Albert Rosenberg left Thursday evening for Los Angeles where he will act as best man at the marriage of Miss Ida St. Leon to Leo Rosenberg, which will take place at the Engstrom apartments this evening. Reverend Baker P. Lee officiating. Miss St. Leon is a charming young woman and a favorite socially and professionally on the coast. She was with Morocco for several years and has given up a promising career to become the bride of the former Phoenixian.

Mrs. Laurence Holden arrived from Boston Tuesday and will pass the remaining winter months here. The Holdens are established at the Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray of Pasadena are the guests of the E. J. Bonnett, having arrived from the coast on Friday.

Miss Georgia Mintz has received much favorable mention by critical Pasadena audiences before whom the talented young girl has appeared during the past fortnight. She recently gave a recital before the Shakespeare club and has been asked to present a program before the Woman's club. While her friends are delighted at her being afforded recognition on the coast they have greatly missed her and will be delighted to learn that she has planned her return home for the latter part of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur returned Thursday from Chicago where they passed the holiday season.

Miss Henrietta Olney returned Sunday to Greenwich, Connecticut, where she will resume her studies at Miss Eliza's after an enjoyable holiday vacation.

Golf and tennis attracted a large gathering to the Country club on Wednesday, the sport contingent arriving early in the morning and remaining the entire day. Among those there for the outdoor diversions or who dropped in for luncheon included Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong Witbeck, Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman Rogers, Mrs. C. P. Alsworth, Mrs. Ernest Lewis, Mrs. John Bennett, Jr., Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. H. H. Logan of Los Angeles, Mrs. Paul Bennett, Mrs. Daniel Francis, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. Kimball Bannister, Mrs. William L. Finney, Mrs. E. E. Pascoe, Mrs. L. E. Hewins, Mrs. E. W. Baum, Mrs. George Goodrich, Mrs. Pen Hildreth, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Henry George, Mrs. T. C. McReynolds, Mrs. Richard E. One of the most attractive events of the week was the tea given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Robert A. Craig in honor of her sister Mrs. Charles Strong Witbeck. Cut flowers decorated the Craig residence on North Fourth Avenue with charming effect. Mrs. Mabel H. Latham and Mrs. Charles Isham assisted in receiving.

Mrs. Craig's guests numbered fifty members of the younger set and on Friday of this week she will entertain with the second of the series of affairs she is giving for Mrs. Witbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Lockett, Mr. and Mrs. Harland J. Gray and Miss Virginia Lockett were the dinner guests of State Senator and Mrs. Hugh Campbell Friday evening.

The members of the art committee met with Mrs. Edwin J. Gillette Friday to complete its business for the year and incidentally enjoy an informal luncheon presided over by its chairman. Those there included Mrs. C. F. Alsworth, Mrs. Dwight H. Heard, Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. H. B. Wilkinson, Mrs. W. K. James and Miss May Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones will entertain informally Thursday evening at their home 349 East Willetta street. Their guests will be the members of the Frisicella club and their husbands.

One of the prettiest events as well as the most notable of the winter season, was the reception and bridge affair given Thursday evening by Mrs. W. W. McNeff, complimentary to Governor and Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell's mother, Mrs. A. T. Allen of California. The McNeff residence on North Third avenue was decorated in a profusion of carnations and ferns carrying out in graceful arrangement a pink and green color scheme. Thirteen tables were present the card prizes being won by Mrs. D. H. Bartles, Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, William T. Collins and W. K. James. Mrs. McNeff was charmingly costumed in white with shell and pink taffeta. Mrs. Campbell was very lovely in pink panne velvet. Mrs. Allen wore a smart gown of gray chiffon. Miss Gwendolyn Allen was crowned in a fetching frock of blue tulle. Mrs. Arch Martin in black net embroidered in jet and Mrs. William E. Defty in blue messaline and silver lace assisted in receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon J. Michelson were dinner hosts Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Collins, much feted Chicago visitors. A yellow color tone prevailed in the decorative scheme and was expressed in marigolds. Covers were laid for ten.

Vice President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall were the luncheon guests of Bishop Atwood on Thursday.

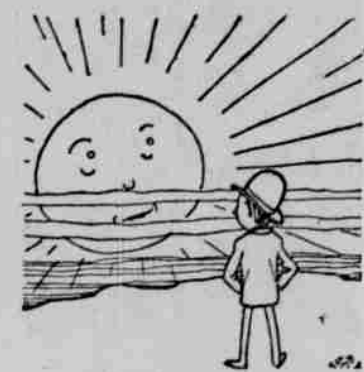

State Senator and Mrs. Hugh Campbell were dinner hosts on Tuesday entertaining Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Tuttle, Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson and Miss Martha Tuttle.

Mrs. E. E. Marks gave a delightfully appointed luncheon Thursday at her home on West Willetta street in honor of Mrs. El Diamond. The table decoration was charming, the centerpiece being violets combined with pink carnations and dainty pink tulle bows added a pleasing touch. The place cards and favors were hand painted affairs, featuring blue birds. Bridge was played in the afternoon, the highest score being made by Mrs. Joseph Wahlstrom. Asked to meet Mrs. Diamond were Mrs. Ralph Cameron, Mrs. Francis H. Redwell, Mrs. H. M. Fenimore, Mrs. Earl Curtis, Mrs. George Mintz, Mrs. Charles Argyle, Mrs. Irving Fletcher, Mrs. L. F. Wolfe, Mrs. J. A. Bessie, Mrs. Sol Rosenblatt, Mrs. Harland Gray, Mrs. Fred Tribollet, Mrs. Edward Elsie and Miss Sophie Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Young of 211 East Van Buren street were dinner hosts Wednesday, dancing and music being the delightful diversions of the evening. In the afternoon Mrs. Young entertained the Frisicella club in her semi charming manner and later in the day the guests were joined by their husbands, whose coming had not been announced, the dinner being a complete surprise to the club members. Those who enjoyed the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McReynolds, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hefflin, Mrs. and Mrs. T. E. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. George Albright, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Mr. and Mrs. G. H.
